Cut the coloured wires to the correct lengths and strip off approximately 5mm of the insulation on each one. Thermostatic Towel Rails The element needs to be tightened 180° and the rail flipped horizontally. At this point, it has already transferred most of the heat that it carried. Curved Towel Rails The element needs to be swapped to the other vertical bar using a spanner key. Step 3 Loosely fit the Bracket Stems to the towel rail with the Bracket Fronts & Bracket Screws. The top bars will not be either as hot as the rest of the rail, our rails are filled to the 90% of their capacity to allow the 10% for expansion of the liquid to prevent overpressure. Step 9 Connect the wires to a fused connection unit fitted with a 3A fuse and tighten the cord clamp. Step 6 Insert the Mini Screws into the holes in the underside of Bracket Bases and tighten with a screwdriver to fix the Bracket Stem into the Bracket Base Step 7 Push the Cover Caps into position on the Bracket Fronts. They also incorporate a thermal fuse as a characteristic. The thermostatic element also features a 2-hour button that can change the temperature for 2 hours or turn off after 2 hours. We do not recommend installation inside a shower enclosure, but excessive installation may be suitable in certain situations. This includes schools, nurseries, sanitary facilities, homes for older buildings and more accessible to the public. Despite an IP rating that allows installation in Zone 1, we recommend that you carefully consider the suitability of the installation environment before installing in Zone 1. Rotate the stems of the bracket as shown in the diagram below. This is why the lower bars will not be as hot as the middle section; The fluid inside the lower bars has already passed through most of the guide and is returning to the element's heating rod. The diameter of the supplied wall plugs is 8 mm and they are only suitable for solid walls. Since there is no internal flow inside the slide, the heat is diffused by diffusion, which means that the hottest particles of the liquid move upwards and horizontally towards the cooler spots on the slide while the cooler ones move downwards and towards the heating cartridge. All Kudox electric towel rails are rated IP55 for installation in IEE Bathroom Zones 1 and 2 along with areas outside the zones. Step 4 Align the stems of the bracket with the bases of the bracket and push the towel guide into position. LST is extra-cure Low Surface Temperature Low Surface Temperature (LST) Towel rails should be mounted in some buildings, used by children, the elderly or any other vulnerable people. All Kudox standard electric towel rails are compatible with the Kudox Digital Temperature Controller. The surface temperature will never exceed 43 Δ°C. need for alternative fastenings for other types of walls.
